m14 | Ratanattayanāmakārapātha

Arahaṃ sammāsambuddho bhagavā, buddhaṃ bhagavantaṃ abhivādemi.

— bow down and chant softly —
“buddho me nātho.
The Buddha is my refuge.”
(phra-phut-tha-jao pen thi-phueng khong-rao)

Svākkhāto bhagavatā dhammo, dhammaṃ namassāmi.
— bow down and chant softly —
“dhammo me nātho.
The Dhamma is my refuge.”
(phra-dham pen thi-phueng khong-rao)

Supaṭipanno bhagavato sāvaka-saṅgho, saṅghaṃ namāmi.
— bow down and chant softly —
“saṅgho me nātho.
The Saṅgha is my refuge.”
(phra-song pen thi-phueng khong-rao)

This saying shows respect for the Triple Gem, firms faith in it, and keeps a close relationship with it in mind. It serves as a preliminary step that will make the attainment of Dhammakaya (the Body of Truth) more accessible.

e14 | Ratanattayanāmakārapātha

Arahaṃ sammāsambuddho bhagavā, buddhaṃ bhagavantaṃ abhivādemi.

— bow down and chant softly —
“buddho me nātho.
The Buddha is my refuge.”
(phra-phut-tha-jao pen thi-phueng khong-rao)

Svākkhāto bhagavatā dhammo, dhammaṃ namassāmi.
— bow down and chant softly —
“dhammo me nātho.
The Dhamma is my refuge.”
(phra-dham pen thi-phueng khong-rao)

Supaṭipanno bhagavato sāvaka-saṅgho, saṅghaṃ namāmi.
— bow down and chant softly —
“saṅgho me nātho.
The Saṅgha is my refuge.”
(phra-song pen thi-phueng khong-rao)

This saying shows respect for the Triple Gem, firms faith in it, and keeps a close relationship with it in mind. It serves as a preliminary step that will make the attainment of Dhammakaya (the Body of Truth) more accessible.
